My screen is not coming on when I boot up.

I was having problems getting my Inspiron 8600 to boot up so I wiped my hard drive and reloaded Windows XP Home, drivers and my other programs. Everything worked great for quite a while then the old problem returned. I wiped the hard drive again however after reloading Windows XP Home I can't get the computer to reboot all the way up from the hard drive. It starts out fine in that I get the Dell logo and then the Windows logo but after that it goes blank. With the screen blank I hear the pop up sounds associated with screen messages but no screen. Any suggestions?
